On Wednesday October 1st, 2008 Ensyn's Renfrew Plant celebrated a significant safety milestone in reaching 5 years without a lost time accident. Very few companies reach this milestone and what is particularly noteworthy is that this was achieved during what has been predominately a construction and commissioning phase of the plant. "Our dedicated staff worked diligently in hot confined space, with heavy equipment, and new chemicals, all while integrating many new staff members and learning a new business" said Ensyn CEO, Dr. Robert Graham.
